Freedom Scott Music Announces Music Tourism Service

LOS ANGELES <Mon., X, 2015> — Award-winning music producer, Freedom Scott, has expanded his business capabilities to include the development of worldwide recording studio travel packages for non-professional musicians and singers so that they may live the dream of recording in the same studios as their musical heroes.

The packages include travel and accommodations, full service music production services, post-production, and distribution. Freedom Scott Music brings the talent and resources together to create a memorable recording in an unforgettable location.

“We can create music on laptops, but that does not compare to a true studio experience. Being in a historic location, such as Abbey Road, adds to the creative energy. My purpose is to create concierge music experiences for corporate professionals who didn’t choose the musical path in life, but still want to take a vacation to be creative. The result is an unforgettable experience and a timeless recording,” said Freedom Scott.

Packages start at $4,999 and increase depending on the complexity of the project. Freedom Scott Music has created a free guide to help understand and plan a dream recording studio experience. It may be downloaded at www.freedomscottmusic.com.
